TINO

PHOTOGRAPHY

In 2011, Tino fell in love with the first wedding he photographed, and aspirations of a lawyer quickly dissipated once his true calling was realized. Finally, Tino's real journey began. Through the hundreds of weddings he has photographed, Tino has met many extraordinary people who have taken him to different places and exposed Tino Photography to vibrant cultures and new religions. All of the multicultural and ethnic weddings have helped shape the man and wedding photographer that Tino is today. Tino says that there are two special moments in his life: The moment that he left his country looking for new opportunities and the moment that he changed careers to follow his passion that was unexpectedly discovered, photography.
